Outreach Position I (lead: Dr. Melody Basham)

Serve as an outreach educator to adult literacy students and teach about biodiversity, insect anatomy, insect classification, how to use the microscope, or an area of your own interest. Lead a "Popup BUG-vent" at various locations in the community or use art to teach science in an afterschool program. We also have regular museum events, and if you have special skills in fabrication or the graphic arts, we could use your help in the development and implementation of various exhibits.

Interested students please contact nico.franz@asu.edu as soon as possible.
